

CONSORTIUM READ AND PUBLISH AGREEMENT

Explanatory note for Consortium

(This note does not form part of the legally binding agreement)

The following is a single framework agreement to cover purchase models for access to the OUP journals and online products, and the publishing of open access articles, that are offered under this agreement.

With the benefit of this framework agreement, you may efficiently make further purchases of our journals and online products which purchases will automatically be governed by the terms of this agreement, without having to renew the agreement annually and without the need to maintain in a Schedule to the agreement a regularly updated list of publications with their start and end dates (although we can do this if it is important to you).

To enable this flexibility, the agreement contains terms that address the various available purchase models (i.e. journals subscriptions, online product subscriptions and perpetual access publications). Certain clauses may not be relevant to the particular purchases you make under this agreement. The applicability of such clauses will be noted in the clause itself, and Clause 1.5 of the Customer Terms and Conditions also makes clear that the terms in each Annex (which, respectively, deal with particular purchase models) apply only in relation to the relevant purchase model if it is being purchased.

If you have any queries about the scope of the agreement, please contact salesagreements@oup.com.

- 3.2 The Publisher may at any time withdraw access to and/or suspend the OA Account of any Customer that is in breach of the Customer Terms and Conditions or whose Charges have not been paid as due. For the avoidance of doubt any such withdrawal of access will not entitle the Consortium or Customer to any rebate of Charges.
- 3.3 The Publisher agrees to make available to the Consortium the monthly usage statistics that are made available to all Customers pursuant to Clause 4.2 of the Customer Terms and Conditions.
- 3.4 The Publisher will use all reasonable efforts to comply with the Code of Practice of Project Transfer relating to the transfer of titles between publishers.
- 3.5 The Publisher will use reasonable efforts to provide the Publications with a quality of service consistent with industry standards, specifically to provide continuous service with a minimum of 96% up-time per subscription, with a maximum 4% down-time excluding schedule maintenance and repairs performed at a time to minimise inconvenience to the Customer and its Authorised Users and restore the service as soon as possible in the event of an interruption or suspension of service. For the avoidance of doubt, unexpected maintenance may occur and the Publisher endeavours to promptly inform the Customer in such circumstance.
- 3.6 Before the end of each calendar year of the Subscription Period, the Publisher shall notify the Consortium Agent of the Publications that will be included in the following calendar year.

4 RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CONSORTIUM

- 4.2 The Consortium shall, prior to the Publication Term, either provide to:
 - 4.2.1 the Publisher the relevant access control details relating to each Customer, and the Consortium shall notify the Publisher in writing of any changes to such details; or

5 PAYMENT OF THE CHARGES

- 5.1 In consideration of the Publisher granting access to and permitting use of the Publications by Customers and their Authorised Users as provided in this Agreement, the Paying Party shall pay the Charges due to the Publisher for each Publication in each year of the Term within 60 days of receipt of each appropriate invoice. For Journals, the Publisher will invoice the Consortium using separate invoices: one invoice relating to access to the Journals (i.e. 'read'); and one or more invoice(s) relating to publication of OA Articles (i.e. 'publish'). The Publisher's allocation of the Charges between 'read' and 'publish' is set out in Schedule B and is based on the Customers' subscription spend and estimated article publishing output. Such allocation may be subject to rounding up variations as may be necessary due to the functionality of the Publisher's management system. Such invoices shall be addressed as follows:

SURF
Moreelsepark 48
3511 EP
Utrecht, the Netherlands

and shall be sent to facturen@surf.nl

- 5.2 Where the Paying Party is the Consortium: the Consortium agrees to pay the Publisher the Charges irrespective of whether the Consortium collects any payment from any/all of the Customers. If the Consortium fails to pay such sums to the Publisher, the Publisher may suspend access to any or all Publications or any portion thereof and/or the OA Account or may terminate this Agreement without liability to the Consortium or to any Customer, and the Consortium and Customers, respectively, agree that the sole remedy in such circumstances would be the Customers' remedies against the Consortium and not the Publisher. The Publisher's rights specified in this Clause are in addition to any rights and remedies that may be available in law or equity.
- 5.3 In the case of Subscription Publications, no later than 60 days before the end of the Subscription Period for that Publication, the Publisher shall notify the Consortium of the Renewal Fees for a new agreed term as agreed by the parties, and shall invoice the Paying Party for this amount. Upon payment of such Renewal Fees, the Subscription Period will be extended by that further period. Payment for that period will be due to the Publisher within 30 days from the date of the invoice.
- 5.4 In the case of Journals, If a Customer has an existing subscription to one or more Journals (including Journals that (i) are included within a Journals collection; or (ii) are subscribed to outside of a Journals collection; or (iii) have transferred from other publishers), and provided that (i) any such Journal was subscribed to by the Customer no more than 12 months before the current Subscription Period of that Journal and (ii) the Consortium consents, the Charges payable hereunder will be inclusive of the online only list price for such existing subscription.
- 5.5 Upon agreement between the parties, the Charges and (for Subscription Publications) any Renewal Fees may be increased to reflect, without limitation and as applicable, changes to the Publications, and/or the potential number of Authorised Users.
- 5.6 Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Publisher will not be obliged to grant access to a Publication, or continue to grant access to a given Customer, until the relevant Charges and (for Subscription Publications) Renewal Fees for the relevant Subscription Period have been received by the Publisher.
- 5.7 Unless expressly stated to the contrary in this Agreement, all amounts referred to in this Agreement will be interpreted as being amounts exclusive of value added tax, goods and services tax and any similar sales or excise tax ("Sales Tax"). Any Sales Tax payable in relation to any such amounts shall be added at the prevailing rate, as applicable, and paid by the Paying Party following delivery of a valid invoice from Publisher.
- 5.8 The Paying Party shall pay all amounts due to the Publisher without any deduction and/or withholding other than such amount (if any) it is required to deduct and/or withhold by law and/or upon other direction of any tax authority. In the event that the Paying Party is required to make such deduction and/or withholding, the Paying Party shall formally notify Publisher before any such deduction and/or withholding is made and paid to the authority concerned and, further, shall, at the written request of the Publisher, assist the Publisher to claim exemption or preferential rate therefrom under any double taxation and/or similar agreement and/or convention from time to time in force and shall provide the Publisher at the time of payment with such evidence as the Paying Party may possess and as may be reasonably required by the Publisher as to the deduction and payment of the tax and/or of the sums withheld.

Termination of this Agreement by the Publisher due to a breach by the Paying Party of Clause 5.1 above, or the Customer of Clauses 2.3 and 3.3 of the Customer Terms and Conditions will also entitle the Publisher to terminate each relevant Customer's access pursuant to this Agreement, irrespective of whether the Paying Party has made any payment to the Publisher in respect thereof. The rights in this Clause are in addition to any rights and remedies that may be available in law or equity.
- 8.2 The Publisher reserves the right to withdraw from the Publications and/or cease providing hosting services for content that it no longer retains the right to provide or that it determines may be unlawful, defamatory, obscene, harmful, false, infringing or otherwise objectionable without incurring any liability to the Consortium or the Customer.
- 8.3 Termination of this Agreement for whatever reason shall not affect the liabilities or obligations of the parties accruing up to the date of termination.
